President
Arab Conference Network

Dear President of the Arab Conference Network,

It is my pleasure to inform you that the Peer Review Team's recommendation for accreditation of Conferences and Activities organized by the Arab Conference Network has been concurred with by the Accreditation Committee and ratified by the Advisory Board.

Congratulation to you and to your organization. On behalf of the Advisory Board, I welcome the Arab Conference Network (ACN) to the CASC accreditation program for having satisfactorily met the standards and fulfilled the requirements of accreditation set by the Council for Accreditation of Scientific Conferences (CASC).

One purpose of the peer review process is to stimulate further continuous improvements of quality conferences. As noted in the team report, the Arab Conference Network is commended on the following Strengths, Innovations, and Unique Features: The Arab Conference Network has implemented the quality management system whereby procedures and process related to conference organization, peer review, online publication, open access, indexing, assigning DOI, publication ethics, and all administrative matters (such as finance, human resource, etc.) are very well documented. The Arab Conference Network is the only organization in the Arab World and the Middle East that has been awarded this unique accreditation status.

The accreditation is VALID for one year starting this 17th, day of February 2019 and is until Feb 16th, 2020.
